

FIT FOR eIDAS?

#FITforeIDAS

eIDAS in a nutshell

EU Regulation No 910/2014 on Electronic Identity, Authentication, and Signatures

-

Provides cross EU:

 - Common representation of electronic identities
 - Legal recognition of secure electronic signatures
 - Framework for assuring the trust service infrastructure supporting signatures and authentication
-
 - Facilitates secure exchange of documents across Europe
 - Enabled through use of trust services with governmental oversight
-
 - Trust services create, preserve and validate electronic signatures, time-stamps and seals
 - Support registered e-delivery
 - Government accredited Trust Service Providers (TSPs) must use certified devices for root of trust

Why eIDAS?

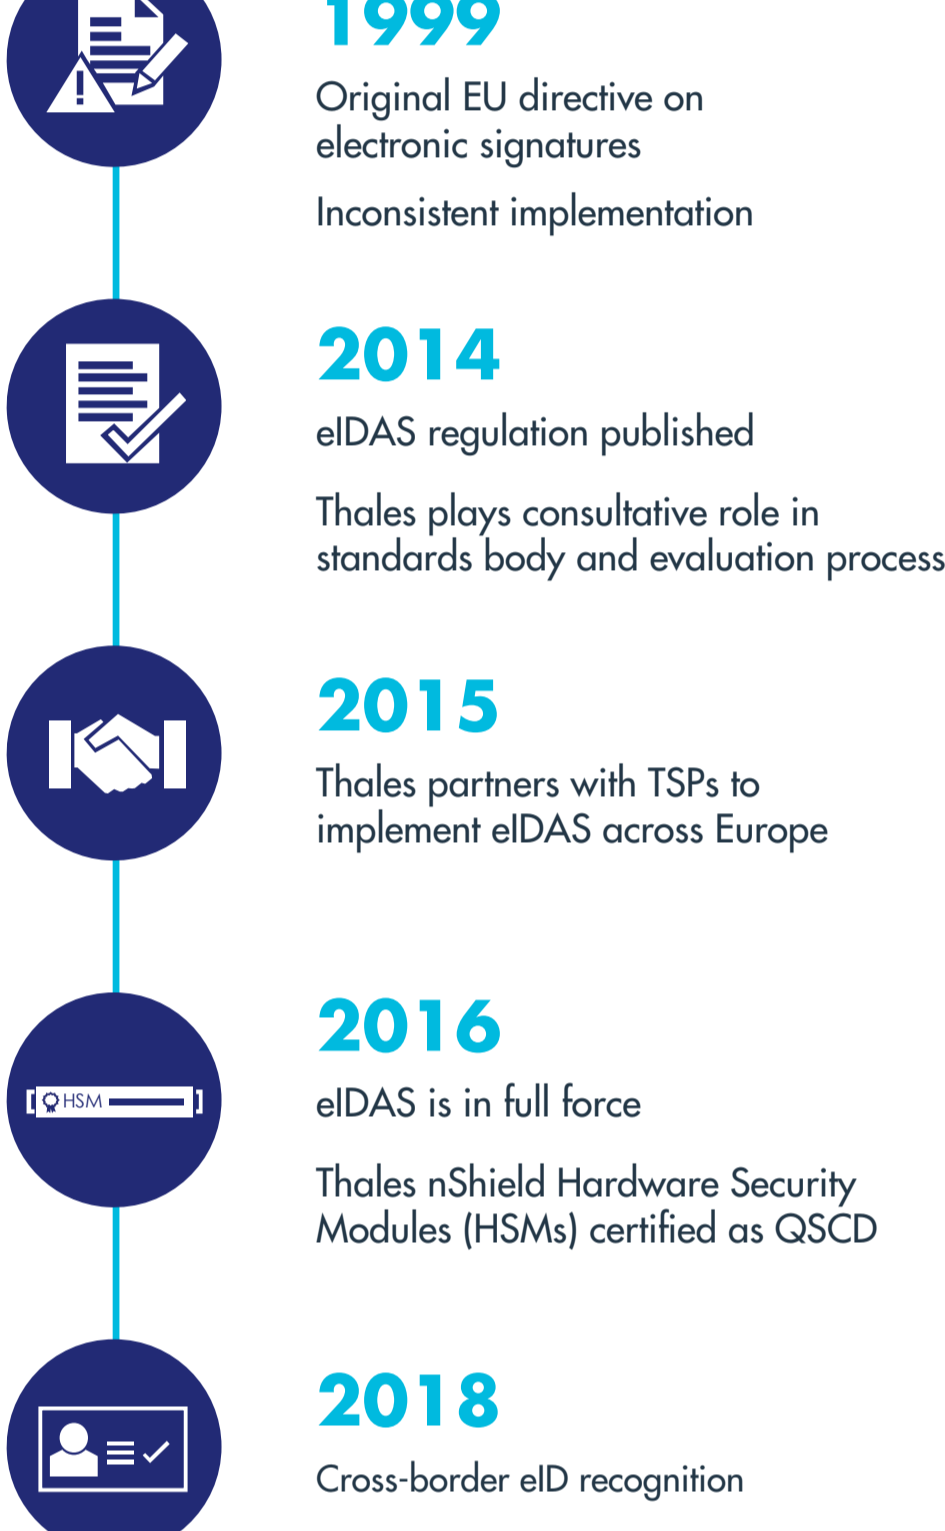

-
 - Need to support business' digital transformation and Europe's digital agenda for economic prosperity
 - Address lack of "legal certainty" missing from earlier regulation
 - Comply with new government regulation
-
 - Incomplete end-to-end digital online journey
-
 - Adoption of digital financial services continues to increase*
 - Use of electronic signature growing at rate of 53%
 - 52% of cross-border transactions currently blocked

* World Payments 2016 Report

 Forrester Research

 European Commission

The evolution of eIDAS

Benefits of eIDAS

-
 - Allows free circulation of legally recognized transactions
 - Enables more convenient and flexible services at lower costs
 - Cuts processing times and speeds-up business
-
 - Makes transactions more secure
 - Reduces fraud
 - Provides trust in information exchanged across Europe
-
 - Fully functional single market to grow EU's economy by €414bn*
 - Consumer savings to reach €11b

* European Commission

 Forrester Research

How eIDAS works

What's next for eIDAS

-

Full implementation, Ecosystem offers qualified services
-

Government agencies and enterprises must comply
-

TSPs at the front lines with compliant services

Count on Thales to ensure you are fit to comply

 CLICK TO DOWNLOAD eIDAS DUMMIES eBook